

Working on a Ketch Primary

Ketches were very important in early South Australia. They delivered wheat, wool, live stock and other cargo around Australia's coastline until the 1980s. The crew consisted of a captain and one or 2 young deck hands.

Pretend you are working onboard a ketch. How would you...?

Cook and eat a meal while sailing?
Collect freshwater during a rainstorm?
Sleep onboard?
Tie the ketch up to the jetty?
Unload cargo?
Keep the cargo dry during a storm?
Go to the toilet on a windy day?
Prepare the ketch ready to set sail?
Work out which direction to sail?
Share the workload with the other crewmembers?
